Pasadena Ronald McDonald House Announces New Board Members

Jenn Castaldo

Megan Foker

Paul Pernecky

Jenn Castaldo has joined the Pasadena Ronald McDonald House Board as director of Women's and Children Services at Huntington Hospital. She has her nursing degree from the University of Wyoming, a master's in health care administration from Bellevue University in Nebraska, and also holds an advanced certification as a nurse executive. Castaldo is new to the Pasadena community and has been working in the area for the past year and a half. She has previously been involved with the house by participating in the annual fundraiser, Walk for Kids. She is married with four children.

Megan Foker joins the Pasadena Ronald McDonald House board as a community volunteer. She is a licensed attorney, receiving a political science degree from USC and her law degree from Georgetown Law School. Foker is an active member in the Pasadena community. She has been on the board of Foothill Family Service and has been involved with both Hillside and Huntington Hospital. She has volunteered and been involved with the Pasadena Ronald McDonald House for many years and was very excited to be asked to be on the board.

Paul Pernecky joins the Pasadena Ronald McDonald House board as the president of P.R. Pernecky Management, a McDonald's Franchisee. Pernecky graduated from Loyola High School, then earned a degree in history with a minor in economics from UCLA. He served on the Mayfield Junior School Board of Trustees from 2008-14 and is a current member of the Young President's Organization, where he served as chapter chair in 2015-16. Pernecky currently serves on the McDonald's National Leadership Council. Prior to joining the Pasadena Ronald McDonald House board, he has volunteered at the house, been a Food and Activities donor, and has participated in the house's annual fundraiser, Walk for Kids. He and his wife, Alyson, reside in La Cañada Flintridge and have three kids: one daughter who attends Flintridge Sacred Heart Academy, and one son and another daughter who attend Mayfield Junior School.
